

Peter Manoukian, Web Developer

About me:

I am a passionate web developer equipped with tenacity from Lebanon to enter the Armenian web field, I am a self-learner, passionate, hungry, motivated and stubborn, and currently I am a full stack developer working with Laravel/Vue.js
Currently studying: Python Django and Symfony

For the past couple of years, I have worked with several Lebanese companies, as a web developer, and as a web applications developer, with Laravel as backend language, building both a web version, and also providing the APIs for front end developers, with API authentications, and web authentications, I also worked on my personal projects with Laravel and Vue.js, building both the front end with Vue.js and the back end as well
